The fox that signs the work

Kitsune is a signature, not a logo for a company: a small fox that marks a piece of work as built by Samuel Sulo, the way a signature marks a page.

A kitsune is the fox of Japanese folklore, clever and quiet. The mark keeps that spirit: a head reduced to seven flat facets, with no outline, that reads at 16 px in a navigation bar and on the front of a printed card alike.

The shape never changes, only the color does. On dark surfaces the facets glow in cyan and violet; on light surfaces the same tones deepen to keep their contrast.

- Craft - built with care, down to the last facet
- Clarity - simple shapes and plain language
- Reliability - systems that run quietly in production
- Signature - a quiet mark of authorship, never a banner

Void and Neon cyan carry the brand on screen; Deep cyan takes over on light surfaces.

> A good system is one nobody has to think about.

Horizontal lockup

This is the version to reach for first: website, email signature, flyers, contracts, clothing.

The symbol is twice as tall as the "SAMUEL SULO" and always stays on its left, aligned to the optical centre of the text block. The descriptor WEB DEVELOPER · CLOUD is exactly as wide as the wordmark: that coincidence is what holds the lockup together.

Wordmark typeface	Space Grotesk Bold, tracking +30
Descriptor	Space Grotesk Medium, tracking +260
Symbol/text distance	0.26 × symbol height
Lockup ratio	≈ 3.4 : 1
File	samuelsulo-logo-horizontal.svg

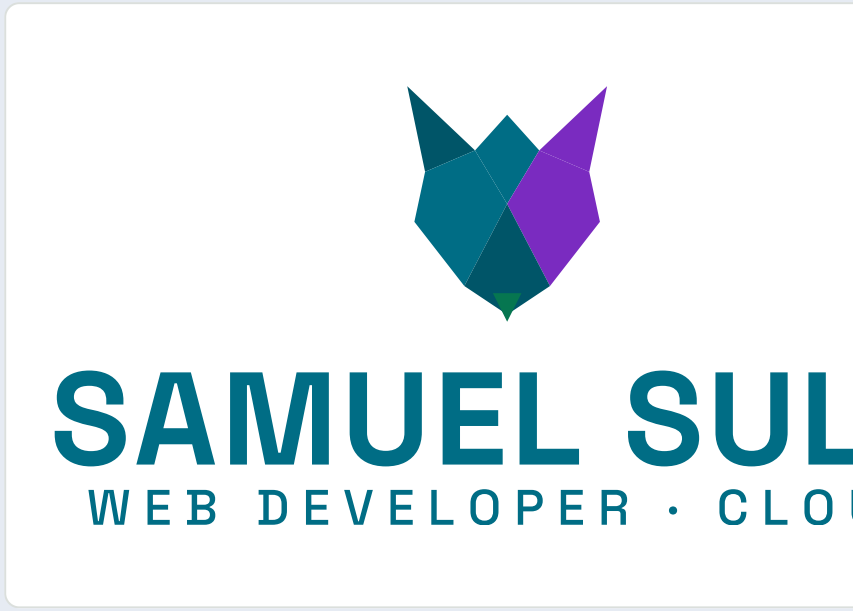

The descriptor can be replaced with the full name or the city, keeping the weight, size and spacing given above.

The four forms of the mark

Horizontal

Primary use: web, print, documents.

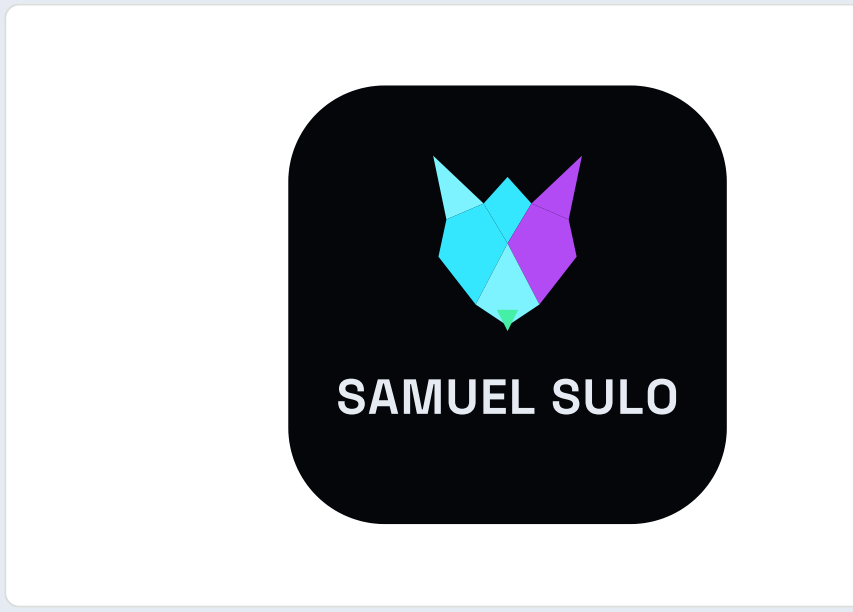

Vertical

Narrow formats: totems, T-shirts, posters.

Symbol

When the name is already present: avatars, patterns, embroidery.

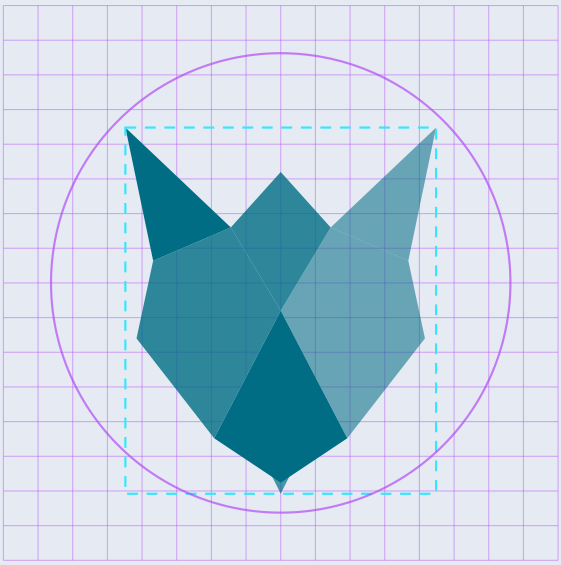

Monogram badge

App icon, seal, stamp, stickers.

Do not create new combinations: every variant is already balanced and must be used as it is, scaled proportionally.

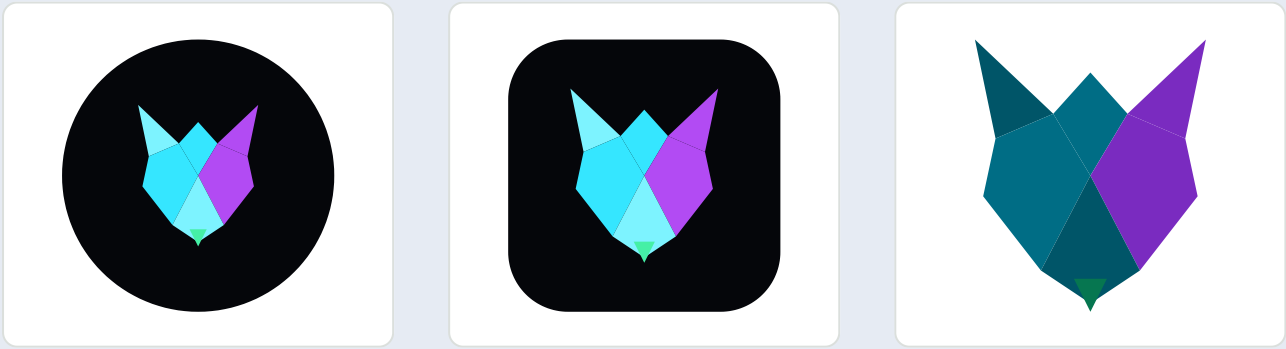

Symbol geometry

The symbol is drawn on a square 16-unit grid and lives inside a circle: that is why it works well in all the circular social formats.

Canvas	256 × 256 units
Facets	seven flat polygons
Tones	light, mid, dark, accent
Aspect ratio	always 1:1
Outline	none

The facets keep their tones: the background colour shows through. This is why the mark stays intact even on photos, embroidery and engravings.

The symbol keeps the same clear space in a circle, in a square and on its own: these are the three allowed containers.

Clear space and minimum sizes

X = one quarter of the symbol height.

Leave at least X on all sides of the logo, free of text, images, borders and other logos. If you can afford more space, give it more: the mark breathes better.

VARIANT	PRINT	SCREEN
Horizontal logo	25 mm wide	140 px
Vertical logo	18 mm wide	100 px
Symbol only	8 mm tall	32 px
Badge / app icon	10 mm	40 px

Below these sizes always use the symbol alone: the wordmark and the descriptor would become illegible.

Ivory and white backgrounds

Mist #E6EBF3 - preferred

White #FFFFFF - allowed

Light grey - allowed

Symbol on Mist

On a light background the logo is always in solid Deep cyan. The accent colour is never used for text on a light background: the contrast (1.26:1) is not sufficient.

Dark background

Void #05060A - preferred

Deep cyan #006D85

Vertical negative

Symbol in Mist

On the dark background the descriptor can switch to Neon cyan (contrast 13.42:1): it is the only context in which the accent touches the logo's typography.

A single colour

100% black on white

White on black

Black symbol - stamps, fax, engravings

White on accent

Use the monochrome version for one-colour screen printing, embroidery, laser engraving, stamps and black-and-white documents. In one color the facets are told apart by opacity only: keep the mark above 12 mm in print so that the lighter facets do not disappear.

Palette

Deep cyan

HEX	#006D85
RGB	0, 109, 133
CMYK	100, 35, 25, 35

Primary colour. The mark and text accents on light surfaces (light theme).

Void

HEX	#05060A
RGB	5, 6, 10
CMYK	60, 45, 35, 100

Dark background of the site, the card and the negative logo.

Neon cyan

HEX	#35E6FF
RGB	53, 230, 255
CMYK	70, 0, 8, 0

The accent on dark: links, glows and the mid tone of the mark. Never on light backgrounds.

Mist

HEX	#E6EBF3
RGB	230, 235, 243
CMYK	8, 4, 2, 0

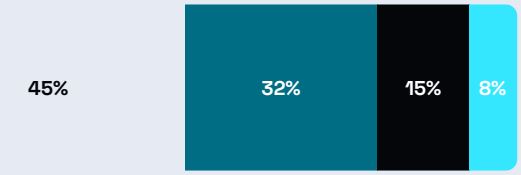

Default light background (never pure white).

Neon violet

HEX	#B24BF3
RGB	178, 75, 243
CMYK	60, 75, 0, 0

Second brand color: the shaded side of the mark and secondary highlights on dark.

Recommended proportions

The accent is a spark, not a surface: buttons, details, numbers, underlines.

Technical notes

- Apple icons must not have rounded corners or transparency: iOS applies the mask itself. The files provided already have a solid background.
- 120, 152, 167 and 180 px (iPhone, iPad, iPad Pro) are included, plus 1024 px for the App Store.
- icon-maskable-512 has the 28% margin Android requires for adaptive icons.
- og-image-1200×630 is the preview for WhatsApp, Facebook and LinkedIn.
- Use the SVG logo on the site: it stays sharp on every screen and weighs a few KB.

The files and when to use them

Once the variant is chosen, the package is delivered with this structure.

logo/svg/*.svg	Vector, primary use everywhere (web, print, typesetting)
logo/png/*.png	High-resolution raster with transparent background
*-negative	For dark backgrounds (mark in light colour)
*-mono-black / -mono-white	Single colour: stamps, embroidery, screen printing
web/favicon.ico + png	Browser tab icon
web/apple-touch-icon*.png	Icon for iPhone/iPad and the App Store
web/icon-192 / 512 / maskable	Installation as an app (PWA, Android)
web/safari-pinned-tab.svg	Monochrome icon for Safari

A mark works when it is always repeated the same way.
Start from these files, don’t redraw them.
